

here&there

Stay close to those closest to you

In touch & independent

here&there is the discreet monitoring & alert system that helps to maintain your relative's independence while bringing peace of mind to your family.

You can see that your relative is happily going about their day, safe in the knowledge that if something out of the ordinary happens you will be alerted.

here&there provides reassurance for everyone in your family and there are no intrusive cameras, costly installations, pendants or fobs. Your relative can live a safe and fulfilled life at home while the family can be comfortable in the knowledge that if anything untoward occurs, they will know about it.

"I am on the train for two hours every day. I like to phone in and chat with Mum in the morning before work and when she doesn't answer I can't stop worrying. With here&there, I know that Mum is fine and so my conversations with her are about books, gardening or family rather than me just checking up on her."

How does it work?

here&there uses five motion and two door sensors within the home. As your relative moves about their home and opens and shuts their front or back door, a timeline of their life is created. This information is then sent securely over the web to your dashboard where you can see the movement patterns in real time.

You set your own alerts which are distinct to your circumstances and those of your relative. Most people have some concerns; did mum get up this morning? Has the back door been left open at night? You can set up any number of alerts, and you can choose to be alerted by text message or email. Alerts also work if you expect something to happen which doesn't. For example, is mum going out or staying in the house all day?

Your dashboard helps you to understand what patterns to expect in the life of your relative. This helps you to look after them from a distance, so that when you see them or phone them you are catching up, not checking up.

Installation is simple and involves placing the prepared Velcro backed sensors in the important areas of the house. These are typically Bedroom, Bathroom, Hall, Kitchen and Sitting Room. Just plug in the central receiver and the system goes live automatically.

here&there is a whole system, you don't need phone lines or an internet connection in the house where it is installed. You can have as many family members, friends or neighbours logged in to here&there as you like, each person can set their own alerts. So you can share the care – no matter how far apart everyone lives.

The simple to use dashboard has been designed to work across smartphone, tablets and home computers. You can log in from any device whether you are at work, home or abroad.

“My dad is a man of routine, he's always downstairs by 7.30am. here&there alerts me if he hasn't come downstairs by 8. If an alert comes through, I make a quick phone call and I know that all is OK, when he was ill I was able to arrange for the neighbour to pop round and the doctor to visit!”

The Benefits

here&there works in the background to help your family live their lives to the full – independently. here&there just makes your life easier and gives you peace of mind.

Connection

You may be in Edinburgh and your relative in Kent but you stay close and connected without anybody feeling like they have to ‘check in’.

Conversation

Once here&there is in place then conversations can move from “are you OK?” to “you’ve been busy this week, what have you been up to?” This helps you stay closer to each other.

Liberation

With the knowledge that you will be alerted if something unexpected happens, the whole family can be more confident in your relative staying at home for longer.

Fact: The cost of here&there for five years is less than two weeks in a care home.

“Dad was really reluctant to have the system, he grudgingly agreed but within about a week he had come around to the idea. Mainly because we stopped calling him at all hours of the day and waking him up to check on him”

“James lives alone. He likes it that way but he has Asperger’s. His Dad and I really worried about him but with here&there in place we can see that he is sleeping and eating and living his life. We can give him the space he needs as he gets older”

“I live quite close to Mum and can pop into see everything is OK, but my sister lives in Vancouver and feels both guilty and worried about Mum, mainly when I am away on business. With here&there, my sister now feels more involved in our mother’s life and is more confident when I am away.”

For more details or to order your here&there system, call 01249 822863 or go to www.hereandthere.co.uk where you can find a video and plenty more information.

The cost is £499 for the equipment and then £29 per month thereafter for the connectivity and dashboard.

There is no contract for the connectivity. You can opt out at any time and not pay any financial penalties.

If your relative is living with a chronic illness or disability, then the VAT could be refunded on the original purchase of the equipment, reducing the equipment charge to £418.83

Professional installation is available. Depending on where you live, it will cost approximately £160. Please contact us for further information.